MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The next annual course of instruction in this Department (now in the forty-first year of its existence) will commence on Monday the 16th day of November,* 1874, and terminate on Saturday the 13th day of March, 1875. Preliminary Lectures of Clinical Medicine and Surgery will be delivered in the amphitheatre of the Charity Hospital, beginning on the 19th of October, without any charge to students.

The means of teaching now at the command of the faculty are unsurpassed in the United States; and are quite as complete as those of many of the renowned schools of medicine abroad. As evidence of this, it may be stated that, in addition to the regular didactic lectures given by the several professors, there is attached to each separate chair, a practical department, in which students can observe and verify for themselves the facts inculcated and discussed in the lecture room. It is to this peculiar feature of the University, and its unequalled hospital advantages, that the faculty would direct the attention of those engaged in the study of medicine, and of those who, having graduated elsewhere, desire to perfect themselves in any particular branch of the profession.

Since the issue of the last Annual Circular, the faculty has lost by death its oldest professor, James Jones, M.D., who was connected with the school for thirty-eight years. His fame as a learned teacher and an accomplished practitioner is co-extensive with the country.

The chair of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children, vacated by the death of Prof. James Jones, has been filled by the transfer of Professor Frank Hawthorn, whose eminent fitness for the position has been fully established by the popularity of his private lectures upon this branch, and his clinical teaching in the obstetric wards of the Charity Hospital. Professor Hawthorn will endeavor to develop to their fullest extent the advantages afforded by the Charity Hospital for practical instruction in his department.

Professor Ernest S. Lewis, M.D., who has been assigned to the chair of Materia Medica and Therapeutics, left vacant by the transfer of Professor Hawthorn, is a former graduate of this institution, and will be doubtless favorably remembered by the class of 1866-67, as having delivered the course upon "Physiology and Pathological Anatomy," in place of Professor Thomas Hunt, who, in consequence of a fatal sickness, was unable to lecture after the first fortnight of the term.

Didactic Lectures.

Systematic didactic instruction in the various branches will be given daily in the central building of the University, situated on Common street, between Baronne and Dryades streets. The means for illustrating this course consist of models in wood, wax, plaster, and papier maché of rare and beautiful workmanship, executed in London, Paris and Florence, expressly for the University; a complete series of specimens in materia medica; surgical and obstetrical instruments and appliances; specimens in morbid anatomy; and an entire set of chemical and philosophical apparatus.

The Museum comprising these collections has been re-arranged and classified, and is accessible to students and visitors at all hours of the day.

Library and Reading Rooms.

The large building known as the East Wing of the University, having been appropriated to and connected with the Medical Department, the Faculty have succeeded in establishing therein a Free Library and Reading Room for the use of students and physicians. The spacious hall selected for this purpose now contains a large collection of books already in possession of the college, which are thus made accessible to those who may desire to consult them.

*Only one epidemic of Yellow Fever, (A. D., 1867) has occurred in the city since A. D., 1858. In case of its recurrence during the summer, students may nevertheless have no hesitation in presenting themselves at the time here indicated. During the forty years of the existence of the institution no student has been known to die of Yellow Fever during the term of lectures.

Clinical Instruction.

The act establishing the University of Louisiana gives the professors of the Medical Department the use of the Charity Hospital as a school of practical instruction.

The Charity Hospital contains nearly 700 beds, and received during the last year 5,660 patients. Its advantages for professional study are unequalled by any similar institution in this country. The medical, surgical and obstetric wards are visited daily by the respective professors in charge, from 8 to 10 o'clock, A. M., at which time all the students are expected to attend and familiarize themselves, at the bed-side of the patients, with the diagnosis and treatment of all forms of injury and disease.

Special instruction is given to the candidates for graduation, who are, for this purpose, divided by the Dean of the Faculty into classes, and assigned to the respective professors in charge of wards in the hospital. The classes thus formed interchange courses so as to enable the candidates to enjoy equal advantages. Thoroughly competent Chiefs of Clinic will aid the Clinical Teachers in developing to its full extent this system of instruction. Students who are not candidates for graduation make the daily hospital rounds with any of the clinical teachers. The following professors and their respective Chiefs of Clinic will be on duty during the ensuing session :

Prof. T. G. RICHARDSON, M. D.....	E. SOUCHON, M. D.	} Chiefs of Clinic.
" S. M. BEMISS, M. D	L. S. McMURTRY, M D.
" F. HAWTHORN, M. D.....	JNO. M. CULLEN, M. D.
" JOSEPH JONES, M. D.....	Y. R. LEMONNIER, M D.
" SAMUEL LOGAN, M. D.....	A. W. DEROLDES, M. D.
" ERNEST S. LEWIS, M. D.

The regular lectures at the hospital, on Clinical Medicine by Professors Bemiss and Joseph Jones, Surgery by Professors Richardson and Logan, Diseases of Women and Children by Professor Hawthorn, and Special Pathological Anatomy by Professor Chaille, will be delivered in the amphitheatre on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, from 10 to 12 o'clock, A. M.

Post-mortem examinations are made in the presence of the class.

V. GRIMA, M. D., will give Clinical instruction daily on diseases of the eye, and lecture in the amphitheatre.

Requisites for Graduation.

I.--The candidate must be twenty-one years of age, of good moral character, and must present to the Dean a certificate from his private preceptor, or exhibit other satisfactory evidence that he has been engaged in the study of medicine for three years, inclusive of attendance upon lectures.

THE NEW ORLEANS Medical and Surgical Journal,

TO ITS

Correspondents, Subscribers, Contributors, Advertisers, and Agents.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

1.—Office at No. 92 Camp Street. The publication of this, the oldest medical journal in the South-west, will be resumed July, 1873. It is to be published every two months. Each volume will contain about 1000 pages; and beginning with the July, ends with every May No. of the succeeding year.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

2.—All business communications should be addressed to "N. O. MED. & SURG. JOUR., NEW ORLEANS, LA.," and should be legibly signed with the name in full, followed by the Post Office, County and State. If on their business, and not the Journal's, a postage stamp should be inclosed, to secure a reply. A favor will be conferred by adding to letters a list of the physicians, with their Post Offices, in the county of the correspondent; also, any recent deaths and removals of physicians.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

3.—TERMS.—$5 per annum, in advance; $1 for single copies. For 100 Extra Copies of articles, 8 pages in length, $10; every additional 100 copies $6.

4.—Money sent in letters registered "Valuable," is at the proprietor's risk, provided, that if such letter be lost, the Postmaster's receipt or certificate of the amount sent, and the date when mailed, be subject to the order of the proprietor for inspection. All payments are promptly acknowledged, by returning the receipt therefor. Payments should be made to no person representing himself as our agent, unless he is advertised in this journal as an agent, or possesses the proprietor's written authority to collect, etc. Payments made to agents should be at once reported to the Proprietor.

5.—The Proprietor is responsible to the subscribers for their numbers of the Journal only so far as to insure their proper delivery at the post office. When, however, prompt notice is given, that the number due has not been received, a second copy of such number will be forwarded.

TO CONTRIBUTORS.

6.—Original Articles forwarded for publication should be written on one side only of each page, should be forwarded two months in advance of the number it is intended for, and must not be previously published in any other columns. Extra copies desired should be ordered with the contribution. Articles rejected are subject to the author's order. No anonymous articles will be accepted, nor any matter exclusively personal admitted, except as an advertisement.

TO ADVERTISERS.

7.—TERMS.....One Page, per annum, $75; for one insertion, $15

One-half page, do 40; do do 10

One-quarter page, do 25; do do 5

No advertisement received for less than one-quarter page; nor one, on any terms, which encourages charlatanism, or tends to derogate from the honor and interest of the profession.

TO AGENTS.

8.—Booksellers, Druggists, Postmasters, and other responsible persons, will be allowed to deduct a liberal per centage for all money collected, whether from the sale of copies of this Journal, from subscription fees, or from advertisements. On application, with satisfactory references, written authority will be given the applicant to act as agent for this Journal. All agents must report promptly all payments, giving the name and address in full, the date and amount of the payment, and the date to which receipt was given; and should furnish lists of the physicians in their own and adjacent counties.

To Book Publishers, Instrument Makers, Druggists, Etc.

Specimens of recent medical publications, instruments, drugs, etc., will receive such notice as they may merit.

PROSPECTUS.

Office NEW ORLEANS MEDICAL AND SURGICAL JOURNAL,
No. 92 Camp Street,
New Orleans, May, 1874.

We respectfully invite attention to this periodical, edited by S. M. BEMISS, M. D. Number one of the Second Volume of the new series will be issued on the 1st of July next. Each volume contains near one thousand pages, mostly original; exhibiting, it is believed, the best exposition of Southern Medicine afforded the profession. Subscriptions, contributions, and advertisements may be sent to the undersigned. The subscription price is Five Dollars a year, in advance. Contributions, pronounced by the Editor to possess unusual merit or originality, will be paid for by the proprietor. The rates paid will be fixed by the Editor, until a more prosperous state of the country justifies the proprietor in publishing an established tariff.

The Publisher would respectfully invite the attention of Druggists to the liberal terms offered those getting subscriptions.

A Specimen Copy can be found at Drug Stores in your place, or the publisher will send one on application, charging you 50 cents for same, with a view of obtaining your subscription. This will be allowed on price of subscription, if you subscribe to same.

Address,

JAMES A. GRESHAM,
Proprietor and Publisher,
And Dealer in Medical and Scientific Books,
92 Camp Street, New Orleans.

Subscriptions, Exchanges and Books for Review or Notice, Advertisements, and all Communications in regard to the business control of the New Orleans Medical and Surgical Journal should be addressed to the Publisher and Proprietor,

JAMES A. GRESHAM,
92 Camp Street.

Contributions and Communications of any description, designed to appear in the Journal, should be addressed to the Editor.

S. M. BEMISS, M. D.,
Glass Box 2188, New Orleans.

N. B.—Neither the Editor nor the Publisher and Proprietor of the New Orleans Medical and Surgical Journal has ever had any interest or responsibility whatsoever in the financial concerns of any periodical previously published in this city.

- II.--He must have attended two complete courses of lectures in a generally recognized medical college, the last of which must have been in this institution.
- III.--He must write a Thesis on a medical subject, and present it to the Dean one month before the close of the session.
- IV.--He must pass a satisfactory examination before the Faculty.

Terms.

For the Tickets of all the Professors.....	$140 00 Fee.
For the Ticket of Practical Anatomy.....	10 00
Matriculation Fee	5 00
Graduation Fee	30 00

It will be noticed that the fees of the Department remain the same as those of the leading medical schools of New York and Philadelphia. Considering the unusual opportunities offered for practical instruction, and the pains-taking, care and labor bestowed upon the pupils, the charges are reasonably low; and the Faculty therefore appeal to their professional brethren throughout the South and West to continue their support, to an institution which they may rest assured will never yield to the degrading influences of pecuniary rivalry so long as the present professors retain their respective chairs.

Graduates of other recognized schools may attend all the lectures upon payment of the matriculation fee; but they will not be admitted as candidates for the Diploma of the University except upon the terms required of second course students. All fees are payable in advance.

Text Books.

The books mentioned below are recommended in preference to others; but recent editions of any standard works may be used in their stead.

Druitt's or Gross's Surgery.
 Watson's, Niemeyer's or Robert's Practice of Medicine.
 Marshall's Outlines of Physiology.
 Green's or Delafield's Morbid Anatomy or Rindfleisch's Pathological Histology.
 Leishman or Shroeder's Obstetrics.
 Barnes' Diseases of Women.
 Vogel's Diseases of Children.
 Smith's Wasting Diseases of Children.
 Fowne's or Graham's Chemistry.
 Richardson's or Gray's Anatomy.
 Ringer's or Waring's Therapeutics and U. S. Dispensatory.

Boarding and lodging are as cheap in New Orleans as in any other large city. The janitor resides in the University building, and will aid students in procuring apartments.

The Administrators of the Charity Hospital elect annually in March, twelve Resident Students, who are maintained by the institution.

T. G. RICHARDSON, M.D.,

New Orleans, June, 1874.

Dean of the Faculty.
